The RCH150 Aboriginal Art Project

A major artwork commission opportunity for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander artists.

In 2020 The Royal Children's Hospital (RCH) will celebrate its 150th anniversary. In recognition of this major milestone, the RCH and RCH Foundation will present RCH150, a year-long program to celebrate 150 years of excellence in paediatric healthcare.

As part of the celebrations, the RCH Foundation is offering a major artwork commission opportunity for Australian First Nations artists.

The successful artist(s) will receive a $100,000 grant to create a permanent artwork for the hospital. Submissions for CELEBRATE. CREATE. CONNECT. will open on 1 February 2019, and close 31 March 2019 11:59pm AEDT.

This is an incredible opportunity for First Nations artists to create a culturally significant legacy and contribute to the future of the RCH.
